WRITING

When I was a child I have loved many difficult computer games. I loved online-games which to need to do makeup somebody or to choose things: dresses, skirts, t-shirts etc. Also I always loved games for girls about cooking, hairs, pets. Sometimes I watched how played my father in computer games about war and tanks or cars. I liked played with him. He teached me to play so good as he. Also I played in this games with my brother. But Now I don't play in computer games, because my interests are other: I reading, watching films and walking with my friends. But I would recommend my friend to play in game "The need for speed" because I expeceially loved her.
